By RICHARD KASISCHKE

VIENNA (AP) — Communist Hungary has executed two leaders of the Soviet-crushed Hungarian revolt in October and November 1956, former Premier Imre Nagy and Defense Minister Pal Maleter.

The executions of Nagy, Maleter and two lesser figures in the popular uprising against Communist rule plus prison sentences for five others were announced today.

Moscow broke the word first in what looked to Vienna observers like the start of a new Kremlin purge of Titoists in the satellites seeking some independence from Moscow's domination. Foreign diplomats in Belgrade viewed the execution of Nagy as a direct Kremlin slap at the Yugoslav President.

Budapest radio said Nagy and Maleter refused to make full confessions to the people's court bench of the Supreme Court, which tried them secretly in Budapest. The dates of the trial and the executions were not made public.

All nine were charged with "organization of a plot aimed at overthrowing" the Hungarian government. Nagy also was convicted of "betraying the motherland" and Maleter of "organizing a military uprising."

Budapest radio said Nagy, Maleter and Jozsef Szilagyi denied the charges "but later under the weight of incriminating evidence they made partial confessions." Szilagyi and Miklos Gimes were Communist journalists executed with Nagy and Maleter.

Rivers Crest in Indiana Flooded Area

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Flood crests were moving toward the southern part of Indiana today.

Officials in Indianapolis met to assess the damage.

Gov. Harold W. Handley said he would await the report before telegraphing Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson asking that hard-hit counties be declared disaster areas so farmers will be eligible for emergency loans.

Federal agriculture officials estimated June floods had cost Indiana farmers from 35 to 40 million dollars.

The Wabash River reached a crest at Terre Haute Monday, but left about 40 per cent of West Terre Haute covered with water. Some 1,500 West Terre Haute residents were forced to flee their homes when an earthen levee broke.

The bulk of the floodwater was moving south and officials said that a levee near Graysville, about 30 miles south of Terre Haute, might be in danger.

Officials said it would be about a week before the floodwaters receded from West Terre Haute, a city of about 4,000 population.

Girl Becomes a Mother at Age of 11

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Mrs. Charles William Turner Jr., 11, is a mother. Her marriage a year ago resulted in charges against her husband.

Mrs. Turner gave birth Saturday to a daughter, Pamela Ann, at the University of Missouri Hospital. Both Mrs. Turner and her daughter, who weighed 7 pounds, 12 ounces, are reported in good condition.

Mrs. Turner and her husband, a 20-year-old employee of Columbia's transit system, were married a year ago last Wednesday. Turner was charged last July 17 with swearing falsely that his bride-to-be was 16 when they applied for a marriage license. The charge was dropped after Mrs. Turner became pregnant.

19 Killed in Brazilian Plane Crash

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Former President Nereu Ramos and 18 others were killed Monday night in the crash of a Brazilian airliner which hit a pine tree as it was landing at Curitiba, 400 miles southwest of Rio.

Also killed were Gov. Jorge Laercio de Santa Catarina state and Congressman Leopoldo Leo.

Another congressman, Jose Leme Rodrigues, was among the eight survivors. He was seriously injured.

The twin-engine Convair of the Cruzeiro do Sul Airline was ending a flight from Porto Alegre to Curitiba, the Parana state capital in a coffee-growing area. The plane said the plane struck a tall pine only a few yards from the edge of the runway.

Ramos 69 took the presidency in November 1955 after the army deposed Acting President Carlos Luz to assure the inauguration of Juscelino Kubitschek. Ramos, who had been vice president and next in line for the presidency, served for three months until Kubitschek took over, then became the new president's justice minister. He resigned last August amid reports of a rift between him and Kubitschek.

11 Mexicans Burn to Death in Truck

SOLEDAD, Calif. (AP) — Eleven Mexican nationals burned to death today as a labor camp truck caught fire.

The truck was being driven to harvest fields about 115 air miles south of San Francisco off U. S. 101.

Eight others were hospitalized. About 25 Mexican field workers were in the truck which was boarded up on the sides and covered with a tin top.

Coroner's deputies had no immediate explanation as to how the fire started. It appeared to have originated in the back of the vehicle. The only entrance to the truck was from the rear.

To Dedicate Regional Library Building

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) — The new North Arkansas Regional Library building will be dedicated here Sunday.

Scheduled to take part in the dedication are Mrs. Merlin Moore of Little Rock, chairman of the state library commission; State Sen. Roy W. Mullum of Harrison; and Harrison Mayor Don O. Heister.

The library, which serves a 6-county area, was built with funds raised by the Woman's Book Club of Harrison.

U.S. Might Use Military to Help Lebanon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States would use military action under certain conditions to preserve Lebanon's independence.

Dulles told his news conference the U. S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean is watching the crisis-ridden Lebanese situation. He said fleet elements including Marines could take appropriate action.

Mentioning that U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and a U.N. security force are in the area, Dulles said any proposal by Hammarskjold in this connection would be supported by the United States. He added that this includes physical support.

Dulles said there are other contingencies under which the United States might send military support to Lebanon. But he declined to go into them, excusing himself from his news conference at that point on grounds he had to go to Washington's National Airport to greet arriving Philippine President Carlos P. Garcia.

British Go Ahead With Cyprus Plans

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan said today he had decided to postpone a statement on the future of Cyprus for 48 hours at the request of Britain's NATO partners.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization is concerned because two alliance members, Greece and Turkey, are bitterly divided over the question of the British crown colony island.

Macmillan told Commons he decided to defer the policy statement at the request of Paul-Henri Saak, secretary general of NATO.

The plan was to be announced by Prime Minister Macmillan in London and Gov. Sir Hugh Foot in Nicosia.

It is expected to provide some measure of self-government for the British colony, a cooling-off period that the Greek and Turkish governments would be asked to help sponsor and perhaps a promise of a self-determination plebiscite in the future in which the island's Greek majority presumably would vote for independence as a prelude to joining Greece.

The population of Cyprus includes about 500,000 persons of Greek extraction and 400,000 of Turkish descent. The Greeks have been waging a sporadic guerrilla campaign for Enosis, union with Greece while the Turks demand that Cyprus be partitioned between the two communities.

Britain gave both the Greek and Turkish governments an advance look at the new plan. An informant close to the Athens government said the Greeks would turn it down as not going far enough.

The Turkish parliament earlier adopted a resolution declaring Turkey would accept nothing but partition.

Fourteen Greek Cypriots and two Turks were killed in weekend rioting last week by Turks in Nicosia and other Cyprus cities. A tense, uneasy peace was finally restored by virtually round-the-clock curfews.

The curfew was lifted Monday morning, and there was no new outbreak. But Greek Cypriot families began moving from homes in Turkish sections in fear that new attacks would follow announcement of the new British plan.

No Comment From Supt. Blossom

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — School Supt. Virgil Blossom declined to comment today on a statement by Gov. Orval Faubus indicating he supplied much of the information which led Faubus to call out troops at Central High School last fall.

Blossom said he might have something to say later.

Faubus' statement came in a copyrighted interview printed in the June 20 issue of U. S. News World Report. The issue also contains excerpts from a hearing two weeks ago on the school board's plan to delay integration.

Faubus said Blossom told him before Central High opened last fall, "We've got to get something done to stop the school integration, because there's going to be too much trouble."

Faubus said that on the day he ordered Arkansas National Guardsmen to surround Central High, Blossom telephoned him to ask for protection. Faubus said he offered whatever aid he could give it Blossom would put his request in writing, but he said he did not hear from Blossom further.

The troops blocked integration for a few days before Faubus moved them on order of Federal Judge Ronald Davies and nine Negroes entered Central High under protection of Regular Army units.

Other persons mentioned in the article also declined to comment. They include Wayne Upton, school board president; Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) of Little Rock, and Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, commander of the Arkansas Military District.

Faubus was still vacationing in northwest Arkansas when the magazine went on sale yesterday.

Arnold Sikes, the governor's executive secretary, said Faubus was expected to return to his office today. Faubus has interrupted this vacation, which he started early this month, to make several brief appearances.

Improper Favors for Friend Who Paid Hotel Bills Denied by Adams

President Also Received Gift From Goldfine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House acknowledged today that industrialist Bernard Goldfine once gave President Eisenhower a supply of expensive vicuna cloth.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower gave the material to a friend. Hagerty added the President does not remember the name of the friend.

Hagerty called a special news conference to discuss the matter just ahead of an appearance by Sherman Adams, the President's chief aide, to tell a congressional committee under oath about his own relations with Goldfine.

The press secretary discussed an article by Drew Pearson which reported that Eisenhower had received a vicuna coat from Goldfine.

Hagerty denied the story as to the coat, but conceded the gift of cloth.

Hagerty said at the outset of his news conference that he would try to discuss the Pearson column without getting angry. Then he went on to say that seven paragraphs of the column contained at least 10 complete falsehoods.

Denying first with the Pearson contention that Goldfine gave Eisenhower a three-quarter length vicuna coat, Hagerty asserted: "That is not true."

He said Eisenhower does have two vicuna coats, one of which he has had since the middle 1940s; the other acquired about 1952. The press secretary did not go into detail on how Eisenhower obtained them.

Hagerty then said it is true that along about November 1950 Goldfine did send the President some vicuna material.

Eisenhower wrote Goldfine a letter of thanks, but never had anything made from the material, Hagerty said.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, discussed the presidential gift at a special news conference, called to talk about a column by Drew Pearson. Hagerty said the article contained at least 10 "lies."

In his prepared testimony, Adams acknowledged that Goldfine paid hotel bills for him at the plush Waldorf-Astoria in New York, in addition to Boston hotel bills previously brought into testimony before the committee.

The investigators brought out that the New York hotel bills were paid about the time one of Goldfine's textile companies was in trouble before the Federal Trade Commission. The case was settled about the same time. There had been testimony about inquiries by Adams to the FTC about Goldfine's troubles there, but Adams has denied he used any influence.

In his statement, Adams posed these questions to the subcommittee:

"Did Bernard Goldfine benefit in any way in his relations with any branch of the federal government because he was a friend of Sherman Adams?"

"Did Sherman Adams seek to secure any favors or benefits for Bernard Goldfine because of this friendship?"

"My answer to both questions is 'No.'"

Dealing with the rug and coat reports Adams said first:

"When Bernard Goldfine first visited Mrs. Adams and me in the house we now occupy in Washington he commented on the shabbiness of the rug which then covered a rather large living room floor. He said he would like to get a better one, although I told him at the time that such a rug would be of no use to us when we moved from our present house or returned to New Hampshire."

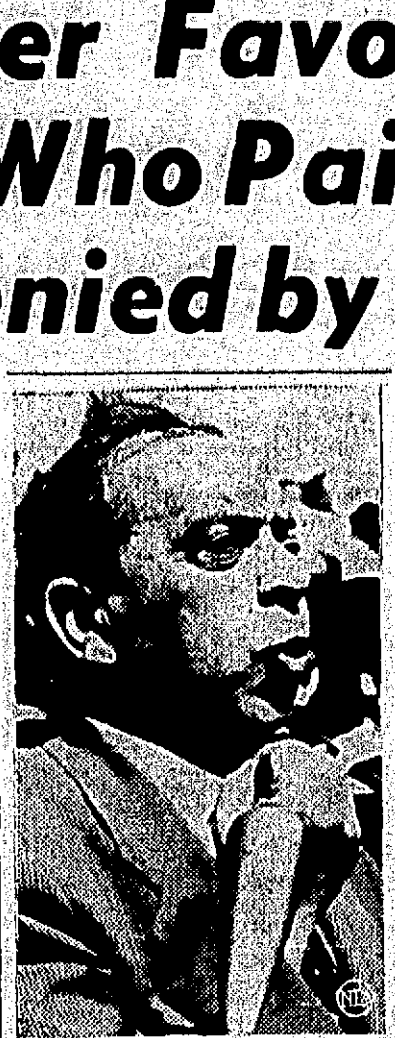

He replied that when that time came and I had no further use for it, I should return it. The rug is his property and he so regards it."

President of Phillippines Visiting U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carlos P. Garcia of the Philippines arrives today for a three-day state visit during which he is expected to seek substantial U. S. economic assistance.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles arranged to greet the 61-year-old Asian leader and his party on their arrival at National Airport. They were flying from Honolulu aboard Eisenhower's personal plane, the Columbine III.

After a 21-gun salute and other military honors at the airport, the two presidents were to ride together in a procession to the President's guest house.

A series of ceremonial visits by the Philippine president preceded a formal state dinner at the White House tonight.

In the course of later discussions, Garcia was expected to seek more than 250 million dollars in long term loans and credits.

After a 50-minute conference with Eisenhower Monday, Dulles said the United States would discuss anything Garcia wished to bring up.

Adams, in an unprecedented appearance before a congressional group, said also that material given to him for a coat by Goldfine cost the industrialist's mill about $90.

"I accepted this gift in the same spirit in which he accepted many years ago, a gold watch from me," Adams said in a statement prepared in advance of the hearing.

As for his relations with the wealthy Goldfine, his good friend, Adams told the House Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight:

"I can only say to this committee, with a clear conscience, that in the 5½ years that I have been at my post, I have never permitted any personal relationships to affect in any way any actions of mine in matters relating to the conduct of my office."

"If on the contrary, I have in any way so conducted myself as to cast any semblance of doubt upon such conduct, I can only say that the error was one of judgment and not of intent."

The testimony by Adams came on the heels of an acknowledgment by the White House that President Eisenhower himself once accepted a supply of valuable vicuna cloth from Goldfine. The White House said, however, that Eisenhower passed the gift along to a friend and now can't even remember who the friend was.

As for the report regarding the cook, Adams said, Bernard Goldfine is a manufacturer of fabrics. He is proud of his mills and their products. From time to time he has expressed this pride in the form of gifts made of these fabrics, which he has presented to

Ignorance Says Aide When Told of FTC Violation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sherman Adams pleaded that "I am ignorant of the rules and regulations" when told today his friend Bernard Goldfine had got information from the Federal Trade Commission in violation of law.

In the witness chair of a House investigating committee, the President's top assistant had sworn he never did any improper favors for Goldfine, a Boston industrialist, who made gifts to him and President Eisenhower.

Subcommittee Counsel Robert Lishman said a law violation stemmed from a telephone inquiry Adams had made in 1954 about an FTC investigation of a Goldfine firm for alleged misbranding of the content of a fabric.

many friends and officials of government.

"As an example, he presented, in the year 1955, to each of the governors of the states and territories, sufficient women fabric to make a suit. Mrs. Adams and I, in common with many other of his friends, have been recipients of such gifts."

"A question has been raised about a coat, reportedly valued at a fantastic sum, which was given to me. I have inquired as to the cost of the fabric which was manufactured on the looms of one of his mills and made up by a local tailor."

"I have learned that the material from which this garment was made cost his mill about $69. I accepted this gift in the same spirit in which he had accepted, many years ago, a gold watch from me."

As for the propriety of government officials accepting gifts from friends, Adams first posed this question to the subcommittee:

"Is it proper for any public official to accept any gifts from any friend?"

Adams' reply: "This is a question which every man in public life canonically answer for himself. Surely I am not insensitive to interpretations that it is possible to place upon a situation involving my relationship with a friend who becomes involved, adventurously or inadvertently, with matters in public agencies."

"I can only say to this committee, with a clear conscience, that in the 5 1/2 years that I have been at my post, I have never permitted any personal relationships to affect in any way any actions of mine in matters relating to the conduct of my office."

"If, on the contrary, I have any way so conducted myself as to cast any semblance of doubt on such conduct, I can only say that the error was one of judgment, and not of intent."

At the outset of his statement, Adams promised to give the subcommittee full and frank answers to any questions they may wish to ask regarding the propriety of any of his relations with Goldfine.

Backgrounding his friendship with Goldfine, Adams said he did not know the currently wealthy industrialist when Goldfine first came to New Hampshire in the early 1930s. He related at that

Russia Calls in Ambassadors

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet government has summoned its ambassadors in London and Washington to Moscow for consultations—presumably connected with intensified East-West summit and nuclear arms negotiations.

Jacob Malik left his London post by plane shortly after it was revealed that Mikhail Moshkov had slipped out of Washington and headed for the Soviet capital.

Malik told reporters, "I am going on business. When one goes to do business in one's own country, it is always a pleasure."

He did not disclose the nature of his business or how long he would be away. Ten officials of the Soviet Embassy saw him off.

Recently the pace of diplomatic exchanges between Moscow and the West has quickened. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev sent lengthy communications last week to President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan dealing with summit matters. Contents of these notes have not yet been made public.

Cardinals Doing It the Hard Way-Extra Frames

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals are still doing it the hard way in their scrap for the National League pennant. They've won 12 of their last 19 games and six victories have come in extra innings.

They moved back to .500 and a fourth-place tie by beating Cincinnati 4-5 in 11 innings Monday night, scoring a pair in the ninth to force the extra time. It was the only game scheduled in the majors Monday, and left the Cardinals tied with Pittsburgh, half a game behind the Redlegs.

Stan Musial made a hairline crack in his slump with a single that got the ninth-inning rally under way for a 3-3 tie. Eddie Kasker's double scored two to cap a three-run 11th.

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell had a one-hit shutout for five innings, then was touched for one earned run in a three-run Redleg sixth. That's the way it stood until the ninth, when the Cards got to southpaw Joe Nuxhall with Musial's first hit in 20 at bats. Ken Boyer's single, a forceout and a walk that loaded the bases. Then Joe Cunningham delivered a two-run pinch single.

In the 11th, Cunningham singled and Don Blasingame's single brought him home after a walk. Kasker then counted the clinchers off Iner Tom Arker (0-2), just enough to cushion a two-run homer by Gus Bell in the Redleg 11th. Morrie Martin won it for a 3-1 record—his second victory in three extra-inning sessions against the Redlegs.

In an exhibition game, the Chicago Cubs gave bonus baby Dick Ellsworth a look-see and the 18-year-old lefty fired a four-hitter that blanked the Chicago White Sox 3-0. Ellsworth, fresh from Fresno, Calif., high school and just added to the Cub roster before game time, struck out two and walked five. The Cubs got the winner in the eighth on a pinch single by Walt Morin.

Barto Hill, Jack O'Brien Will Put on Wrestling Match at McCaskill's RCI Carnival

Characters come and go in wrestling, but seldom have two more colorful "characters" been booked to meet each other than the two who will wrestle Friday in McCaskill's RCI Carnival. Neither Barto Hill nor Jack "Roughhouse" O'Brien is the type who lets his hair and whiskers grow to attract attention.

Both are real tough guys and both have had many years of rough and tumble professional wrestling experience, according to Jess Tinsley, promoter of the match in McCaskill for the RCI.

Barto Hill was born in Pike county near Delight, not far from his present 800-acre farm across the Little Missouri river in Hempstead county. He was a big, powerful-built farm youngster who is remembered throughout southwestern Arkansas for his exploits on the football field which predate his career in wrestling. Rivalry between Nashville and Murfreesboro was a big thing back 20 to 30 years ago. Eligibility rules governing high school athletes were not enforced as they are today. Facing

Yanks Hope to Break Slump at Cleveland

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Are those New York Yankees ready to be had? Or is that four-game losing string the champs are dragging just another body trap ready to explode as they open their second tour of the American League's western division?

Either way, that slump figures to perk up the gate as the Yankees move into Cleveland for a three-game set starting tonight, then move on for a three-game series at Detroit at week's end.

The Indians, riding a four-game streak for only the second time this season, have picked Ray Narleski (8-4) for the opener against Yankee southpaw Whitey Ford (7-2), whom they haven't beaten in more than two years.

The Yankees, still leading the league by seven games although losing nine on their last 15 and playing only .500 ball for 12 June games, carry a rare 19-inning scoreless string into Cleveland after Sunday's double shutout by Detroit that gave the Tigers a four-game sweep.

Narleski hasn't lost since May 25, when Ford beat him 6-1. Whitey has won six straight since an April 30 defeat by Detroit.

The Tigers, just a half-game behind fourth place Cleveland after jumping out of the cellar by winning six of seven under new manager Bill Norman, open their home stand against the slumping Washington Senators. Paul Foytack (5-6) is the Tiger choice against Pete Ramos (4-4).

The bustling Boston Red Sox, clinging to second, open at Chicago with right-hander Dave Sisler (6-2) facing the White Sox' Billy Pierce (4-5). Baltimore, scoreless in 24 innings and in the cellar after Sunday's shutout sweep by Chicago, is at Kansas City with Lee Brown (1-0) opposing Ray Herbert (2-1) of the third place A's.

No games were scheduled in the AL Monday, although the White Sox and Red Sox dropped exhibition contests. The White Sox, with ex-Tiger Bob Shaw the loser, were beaten 1-0 by the Chicago Cubs. Boston lost 14-10 at Minneapolis to the American Assn. Millers.

Only one game was scheduled in the National League, with St. Louis defeating the Cincinnati Redlegs 6-5 in 11 innings.

is recognized as one of the roughest and incidentally one of the best among the rougher type of grappler. We suppose he must be classed as a mat "villain"; however, O'Brien insists that he isn't a villain but rather the type of wrestler who means business.

He married in 1946 and retired two years later to buy his farm in Redland township. He now has seven children and is known throughout the McCaskill community and Hempstead county for his great strength and for the amount of work he can do in a day's time.

Barto's opponent in Friday's match is also a wrestler who got his start on the farm, a farm in Texas. There is no college or university stuff about Jack O'Brien. No college football, nothing like that. He admits to having been to school, learned a little and then went to work. He says he has been working ever since he can remember, likes it and intends to go on working the rest of his days.

When in his teens, Jack says he wrestled with other boys much older and heavier than himself in matches which must have lasted well over an hour. Ray doesn't know because there were no timekeepers, referees or judges to tell him. All he knows is that grown men watched the action, made some side bets and cheered the one they had backed.

That is O'Brien's background in wrestling. The years have gone on since those days and today O'Brien

Contracts Let for Space Craft

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force announced today contracts to develop a manned space craft that will blast off like a rocket, orbit the earth like a satellite and land like a conventional airplane.

The contracts for the advanced space project named "Dyna-Soar"—a contraction for dynamic soaring—are the Martin Co. of Baltimore and Boeing Airplane Co., Seattle, Wash.

The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics will be a full partner of the Air Force in managing the Dyna-Soar project. Both have been working on it since 1931.

Arkansan 10 Millionth At Brussels Fair

BRUSSELS (AP)—This Friday the 18th was a lucky one for Ed Thrash and his wife Dorothy, of Hot Springs, Ark. They were tapped as the 10 millionth and 10 millionth plus one visitors to the Brussels World's Fair.

The 10 millionth visitor must have been my wife, she has always been lucky, Thrash said.

It was the couple's first visit to the fair in a three-month stay in Europe.

The Thrashes got a free day at the exposition, including a car to use where only official cars are allowed to circulate and lunch at the Czechoslovak Pavilion.
